Q3. Specify your experience share(please include date, event title if any.)	During studying in Korea, I attended some event. One time, I was a debater in an Saemaul international conference. I also was the presenter in MGLEP meeting to share the experience to live in Korea. As a member of student council, I have a time to share the experience about program to next batch of MGLEP. When come back to my organization, we have a welcome meeting and I had just a small talk to share about the program.
Q1. Do you have any experience utilizing your thesis work/research?	No
Q2. Please Specify your experiences.(please include date, event title if any.)	Before coming back to Vietnam, I tried to write a paper with my proffessor. However because lacking of time, it cannot be completed.
Tell us your experience.	I did do internship in AFoCO - Asean Forest Cooperation Organization. When I was doing internship there, they had a project in Vietnam. In 2018 May, the project has a big issue of project documents when they cannot communicate with representative of project, and some documents cannot be done so the project may be not completed. As a officer government, I know well the working process in Vietnam ,so I helped them to communicate with project manager, understand the issue, explain to AFoCO and I found ouf the way to resolve the issue and work with Vietnam side to complete it.
Please leave any comments :D	In my opinion, MGLEP program gave me a chance not only to study master degree but also to stay international cooperation asmosphere. It is very important to my career in future. The most knowledge I got came from the time that we shared experience together, doing as internship and making a connection. After program, I got the overview of all friends countries, understanding the international culture and got an experience to work with oversea officer government.

Tell us your experience.	Before I graduated from UOS, I had one project that it had been called Drone Project. This project had been worked with my former department, The department of public works and research center. The project had been successfully in 2017. My colleagues and I went to Korea a week for training to improve our capacity building. At that time the project had been supported and submitted to Korean Government by SAMOO C.M who worked closely with me on this project. And nowadays SAMOO C.M and I are running with two other project but those are not fruitful yet.
Please leave any comments :D	For my opinion, MGLEP is one of useful program. As I descried above this program build a good network although I am not a smart candidate who attend with this program but I could build a good network with Korean Government through SAMOO C.M Company. The program is good but it's quite long if we compare with other program. (Please contact me any time, happy to build up information with this program). Thanks MGLEM prog.. and all of my professors who working at UOS.

Q2. Experience share type	Experience share / Knowledge share
Q2-1. If you answered "others" above, please specify.
Q3. Specify your experience share(please include date, event title if any.)	Once I came back to Mexico, I had several meetings (during July) in the Ministry of Environment and Natural Resources where I presented and share my experience in Korea and all that I learnt from it. Firstly, I pointed out that the Mexican Agency for International Development Cooperation is having a lot of problems in the monitoring and evaluation system of many Mexican projects and initiatives on environment. Secondly, I presented briefly the outcomes of my thesis emphasizing what Mexico can learn from the Korean development success, what we can improve in the Mexican International Cooperation policy, what we can adapt from the Korean policy to the new Mexican strategy for the National Plan 2019-2024. I also presented all the failures and success that I found during my thesis research about the two projects between Mexico and Korea developed between 2012-2017 on climate change and green growth In this context, I reiterated what Mexico needs to do in order to become a leader in Latin America in its International Development Cooperation like Korea. For instance, all the failures and success founded in my research will be use not only to improve future projects in the environmental area between Mexico and Korea, but also will contribute to enhance the Mexican International Cooperation policy and will allow to propose new methodologies in the way of the projects are conducted in different sectors and with other countries around the world. In this sense, I will present in January 2019 to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, a proposal with my findings and suggestions, that I did in my thesis, about the Develop of an effective monitoring and evaluation system. This is the most important tool for the success of Mexico and Korea collaboration. I also will propos the design of a system where specialist can follow up the process of the projects and elaborate reports of the results.
Q1. Do you have any experience utilizing your thesis work/research?	Yes

Q2. Please Specify your experiences.(please include date, event title if any.)	Nowadays, Mexico's new government is developing a new strategy for the National Development Plan 2019-2024. In this context, I took the chance to present in July 2018) to the Ministry of Environment and Natural Resources, a summary of my thesis with the aim to show the findings and conclusions of my thesis research about the 2 case studies between Mexico and Korea on climate change and green growth. Therefore, the Ministry of Environment and Natural Resources emphasized its interest to include the lessons of thesis research in the new Mexican International Cooperation strategy. I am currently participating and contributing in the development of the International Development Cooperation 2019-2024, as well as the National Development Plan 2019-2024, where I will contribute and share all the knowledgewe learned from Korea in order to improve many aspects of the bilateral relation between both countries, as well as south-south cooperation and triangular cooperation. Likewise, it will provide the tools to develop more projects in different sectors besides environment. The purpose of the current study was to determine the lessons from the Korean experience as well as from the projects implemented between both countries in order to improve the current International Cooperation policy of Mexico.
Tell us your experience.	My experience in the Global Green Growth Institute (GGGI) was wonderful, fruitful, productive and successful due to the 3 following aspects: A) During my internship, I conducted a research regarding Mexico's regional initiatives in Latin America on environment and Green growth trough bilateral and triangular cooperation which I presented to the Director and Head of Programs of Large and Emerging Economies at GGGI. B). As a result, GGGI is currently improving, supporting and reinforcing the projects I proposed. C) I will participate in the formulation of new projects in which I will share my knowledge and experience from Korea. These projects will be part of the new strategy of International Mexican government 2019-2024. D) I am currently keep in touch with GGGI in Seoul and Mexico for the creation of a network in the Latin America through Korea collaboration. This network is one of the suggestions I presented during my internship in order to reinforce the cooperation on environment between both countries through new projects. It is important to point out that I am highly committed in sharing all that I learnt in Korea. E) Consequently, the relationship between Korea and Mexico on environment is improving because of GGGI intervention and collaboration.
Please leave any comments :D	The MGLEP is an excellent program for those who want to learn the Korean experience on Environment and improve the environment policies of their countries. In my opinion, it is one of the best program and scholarships around the world. It would be wonderful if the alumni can keep receiving training in Korea trough small courses. It is crucial keep working together to enhance and increase the building capacities of the alumni, have a feedback from Korean experts and exchange and share information between the alumni trough annual meetings, either Korea or another country where some alumni can host. This will strongly increase the MGLEP network and will allow to gain prestigious around the world.

Explanation of your change(e.g. promotion, Department transfer, etc.)	Although still a staff member, my role has changed from a news writer to senior environmental policy analysis and is responsible for covering the Indonesia Ministry of Environmental and Forestry publications on an international level. I am currently one of the candidates for promotion in January 2019.
Q3. Have you been promoted?	YES
Q1. Number of your experience share activities	more than 9
Q2. Experience share type	Presentation
Q2-1. If you answered "others" above, please specify.
Q3. Specify your experience share(please include date, event title if any.)	Thanks to all the professors and the various opportunities given during my studies in Korea, I have had many presentation experiences and have good papers. When I returned to Indonesia, I was asked to present the results of my research and was invited to be the keynote speaker at the Climate Change Forum and Expo on October 18th and 19th. I was also interviewed by the national media and TV on July 20th and October 18th regarding my academic achievements in Korea and policy recommendations to the Government of Indonesia based on my study. In addition, I was actively involved in various seminars and workshops such as the Indonesia ??EU Business Dialogue on Circular Economy on October 25th, the Asia Pacific Roundtable Conference on Sustainable Consumption and Production on November 12th, seminar on Sustainable Eco-tourism on November 28th, seminar on SME Green Business on November 29th, and was a speaker at the side event of workshop on Indonesia Waste Bank Development on December 3rd. I was also able to meet with the Director General of Solid Waste Management and give my thesis to her, discuss with several officials about municipal solid waste management and its investment opportunities, and provide input on various waste management projects in Indonesia as well as future policy improvements.
Q1. Do you have any experience utilizing your thesis work/research?	Yes
Q2. Please Specify your experiences.(please include date, event title if any.)	My thesis was about plastic waste. I twice gave a presentation to the public regarding on my research at the Climate Change Forum and Expo on October 18th and 19th, as well as a presentation at a workshop on Indonesia Waste Bank Development on December 3rd. I was also attending the launch of the No Straw Movement at McDonald's restaurant on November 12th and the launching of plastic bag policy in Bogor City on December 1st. The newest one, I had the opportunity to give my thesis directly to the Director-General on December 3rd. The Director-General was enthusiastic about my thesis and considered it a very meaningful input to the Indonesian government's policies in the future. In December, I was invited several times by officials from the Directorate of Solid Waste Management and discuss sustainable municipal solid waste management from an academic perspective as well as the real implementation in Korea.

Tell us your experience.	The most valuable experience of MGLEP that I feel right now is GNS and field trips because I can learn directly about a sustainable development project. In December, in front of the officials from the Directorate of Solid Waste Management, I conveyed the urge for Indonesia to adopt environmentally friendly landfills such as implemented at the Sudokwon Landfill Management Corp, the waste incinerator plant at Hanam Union Park Tower, and various Waste-to-Energy facilities that I had visited in Gwangju, Daejeon, and Busan during the MGLEP Joint Workshop. I hope that in the near future Indonesia will again add more investment in urban waste management and open up for international cooperation including with Korea government. I also had a chance to discuss this opportunity for cooperation between Indonesia and Korea when had a meeting with NIEHRD representatives during an alumni reunion event in Jakarta on December 12th.
Please leave any comments :D	Everyone is a leader. And MGLEP is a great program for shaping our character as a future leader in environmental policy. The professors really understand the potential we have and we must be grateful for that. When the professor recommends for us to give a presentation (such as an SCSP program), students should take the opportunity. I was awarded as the best presenter in the international session of the KPA Congress, and that happened because the professor trusted me. It was my best achievement during my studies in Korea, including the award I received at the graduation ceremony. Furthermore, students must be able to document all of our academic achievements, even if only a presentation in class. Facebook is the best promotional media for our careers because my various activities in Korea were monitored by my boss in Jakarta. So, be a productive student. Follow all activities such as field trips and seminars. Build friendships and networking. Because in the future, we are the leaders in the implementation of sustainable development in our country. Good luck!

Please leave any comments :D	Although I haven't experienced in thesis works mentioned in part 4 under this survey, I had a chance to share my knowledge about my thesis to environmental experts from international NGOs like World Bank, UNDP, WWF and other agency like Vermont Law School as per their requests. Those institutions continuously provide technical supports to my department for the development of Myanmar EIA system. Moreover, I shared my new insights and fresh knowledge of EIA practices and other Korean experiences to Director General and other superior government officials from my department. I strongly believe that it will fulfill and encourage to highlight the gaps and loopholes of current EIA system and be helpful to give them systematic ways to bridge between the policy makers and EIA practitioners.

Please leave any comments :D	Thanks a lot for this elaborate and glamorous program! we gained knowledge, friendship and precious experience there. I totally agree with the follow-up events being sustainable, which is rewarding for network and collaboration. A tip I would like to present here is to improve exchange with similar programs from other universities and organizations, not only between these two universities. Hope this program more vigorous! I am always here to support this program improvement. Meanwhile, I am glad to attend various events which you hold in and out of Korea. Thank you.
